From the desk of the Garrison Commander

Col. Peter Dausen, U.S. Army,
Garrison Commander

We just finished another Army year. The Army, like all of the government, runs its schedule on the fiscal year which begins on Oct. 1 and ends on Sept. 30. Our yearly budget ends on Sept. 30 and if we hadn't spent our money by that time, we lose the ability to do so and thus lose the remaining money. I am very happy to report that because of super efforts by many folks both in the Garrison and the Installation, especially Resource Management, Contracting, Public Works, Logistics, Information Management, and others, we were able to completely spend our money. And all on worthwhile programs and projects that will benefit you in the future.

Unfortunately, we don't expect to be funded on as high a level for the upcoming fiscal year. The Army will be funding only BASOPS (our Garrison Money) at less than 85 percent of our previous budget because of the need to resource a Modernization Program for the Army of the Future. The money all comes from the same place, so like our personal budgets, we all have to make tough choices about how we spend our money. The good news is that we believe that we can find more effective and efficient ways to do our Garrison business so that you will continue to see the Garrison of the Presidio of Monterey and the Annex get better and better despite a down-turn in funding from the top. You can help us by telling us your good ideas and the programs and projects that you would like to see done. Come to the Town Hall meetings and tell us about your good ideas or call us on the Bossline or at the Garrison Headquarters. We want to do the right thing for you!

Thanks for listening.

EVENTS

California Rideshare Week through Oct. 9

MONTEREY AREA - The Defense Language Institute, Presidio of Monterey's longstanding tradition is our support in taking care of all military members and DoD civilians. During the week of Oct. 5 to Oct. 9, the Commute Alternatives/Ridesharing (formerly Monterey Ridesharing) will sponsor California Ride-Share Week 98.

"I highly encourage military and civilian personnel to participate by pledging to carpool, vanpool, take the bus, ride a bike, walk, or telecommute to work at least one day during the week. Many of our military and civilian employees live in Monterey, Seaside, former Fort Ord and other surrounding areas that would make for easy ridesharing. Talk with your coworkers in the weeks preceding the event to learn who lives in your area. You could find a commuting partner as well as some important networking contacts."

Tips for Spending Less

(from Army Emergency Relief office, Army Community Service, located in Building 4260, General Stilwell Community Center, POM Annex)

If you think there's no way you can cut back on your spending, think again! Saving money by spending less isn't brain surgery, but it does take discipline. The main ideas are: shop wherever possible on sale, deal or discount, buy value, not price, take care of the things you own, be especially careful on large purchases, never buy on impulse (always plan your purchases), compare prices whenever possible and pinch pennies -- they soon become dollars.

Saving category: VEHICLES

Consolidate your errands and plan the route efficiently.

Don't even use the car for close-by errands. Walking is great exercise.

Shopping for the best vehicle insurance rates is a must. You can do this from home on the World Wide Web. When you compare insurance rates, remember to keep "apples with apples."

Choose a higher deductible on collision insurance.

Drop your collision insurance if your car is older.

You must have liability insurance, but it's also a good idea to carry insurance for uninsured motorists.

Drive safely and smoothly -- no sudden stops or starts. Less gas use is the payoff.

Always change your oil at recommended intervals. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. And read your owner's manual for other regular things you need to do. Do them!

Make sure you subscribe to an emergency road service. It's inexpensive, and the first time you need it, you'll be happy you have it.

Commander's Proclamation

Domestic Violence Prevention Month October 1998

Presidio of Monterey

Each October, we dedicate ourselves to the critical mission of domestic violence prevention. We do not do this merely as a month-long reminder. We use this month as an opportunity to set a strategy for prevention that will last throughout the year.

This year, our theme is "Domestic Violence Prevention: Today's Choice for Generations to Come". What we do today to prevent domestic violence could have profound and positive impacts on the way our children grow up to become responsible and caring adults. The slogan for this year's campaign is "How do you want to be remembered?" This question gives each individual in our community the opportunity to do those things that assure that we are remembered well.

The experts have spoken on how important prevention is for generations to come. Significant research has helped clarify that a home that is violent between adults is damaging for any children living there. Beginning now, we shall work to assure that today's children grow up with memories that will help them break the cycle of domestic violence.

The command in this community is dedicated to making prevention work. It is not enough to focus just on what happens in our personal lives. The message we send is to everyone in our community. We do not stand by and allow domestic violence to occur. Everyone has a responsibility to make this message clear; both by word and by deed. Nobody said that domestic life would be easy. There is no excuse for domestic violence. To paraphrase the themes of the past three years: We all have to "protect and defend" our spouses. We all need homes that are "safe and secure". The bottom line is that "domestic violence prevention begins with me"-and you, and every individual in this community.

Our Armed Forces build strong soldiers, airmen, sailors, and Marines. Everyone has it in his or her power to end domestic violence once and for all. Our children will grow up to protect and defend the people in their lives, and our families will be strong and secure. If we all work to stop domestic violence today, it will be gone when our children become adults.

Our duty and responsibility call on us to make this campaign succeed - for generations to come.

PETER G. DAUSEN
Colonel, SC
Garrison Commander

Attention NCOs - Army, Marines, Navy, Air Force

BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Looking for a highly motivated noncommissioned officer (SSG and above) to take charge of the Defense Language Institute and Presidio of Monterey Joint Service Color Guard. This is to replace the current NCOIC, SFC Linda Kessinger, who held the position steadfastly for two years. Kessinger will be PCSing soon. Request response by Oct. 31.

This position offers leadership time. You will represent DLI at numerous events throughout the year most of which support local community functions to include opening ceremonies at professional sporting events held in the San Francisco area. Class A's required for most functions. NCOIC traditionally carries the national colors. A great position — the chance of a lifetime to carry the national flag at every function, such as retirements, changes of command, downtown parades, rodeos and for luncheons for Kiwanis and VFW. As NCOIC, you'll automatically meet others in the local community. This is a dynamic career and personal growth opportunity. Be a leader, a doer. Real responsibility is not just doing the tasking because your name is on a roster, instead it's when you make the dedicated decision to go the long haul; giving, because you want to give. Just like in any volunteer job, this position can help add to your resume and then some - you're a leader.

Average color guard commitments/jobs: three per month. Color guard practice is usually conducted every Tuesday and Thursday from 4 to 5 p.m. As leader you'll be in charge of two teams, seven per team, with an assistant NCO who's currently in place. Call SFC Kessinger at 242-6319 or 242-5177.

A chance to lead and apply your professionalism, self motivation and integrity.

What higher honor, than to carry the American Flag.

Red Cross announces program for:

Raising Funds for the Armed Forces Emergency Services

MONTEREY - In October, the American Red Cross will benefit from United States commissary sales of more than 53 national brand products from 19 major grocery manufacturers. The promotion, Helping Military Families Today, will benefit Red Cross Armed Forces Emergency Services, which assists military families when Help Can't Wait. This program will run as part of the annual anniversary sale held each October to provide maximum savings to commissary shoppers.

Beginning Oct. 5, participating products will be discounted to commissary shoppers, and a contribution has been made to the Red Cross by the manufacturers based on the number of their brands participating in the program. Special displays and in-store signage will highlight participating products during October. Additional product discounts will be offered through coupons by some manufacturers in the Military Lifestyle Red Cross supplement distributed in commissaries throughout the United States.

Military families wishing to support American Red Cross Armed Forces Emergency Services may do so by purchasing specifically marked products in their commissary during October. More information is available through the nearest Red Cross station located on most installations including Presidio of Monterey.

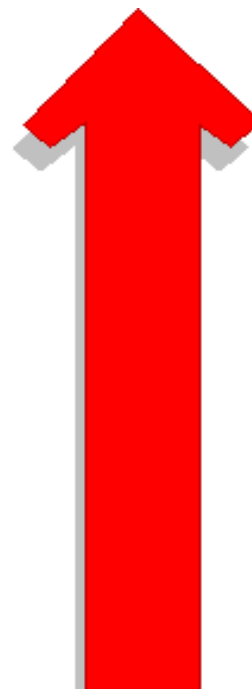

Participating manufacturers are Best Foods, Campbell Soup Company, Colgate-Palmolive, Del Monte Foods, Dial Corporation, First Brands, General Mills, Kellogg's, Lederle, M&M/MARS, Mott's USA, Nestle' USA, Proctor & Gamble, Drypers, Helene Curtis, Monarch Crown, Tyson, Umex, Vlasic Foods.

The American Red Cross Armed Forces Emergency Service serves members of the military and their families through 213 Red Cross stations providing services to 569 military installations in the United States and abroad. Nearly 600 paid staff and more than 45,000 volunteers delivering services to military families are supported throughout the country by more than 1,300 active Red Cross chapters.

Chartered by the United States Congress to provide assistance to military families, the Red Cross has a historic partnership with the military that dates back to when Red Cross founder Clara Barton brought aid and comfort to the Civil War wounded. The Red Cross is not a division of the U.S. Armed Forces or a government agency, but is an independent nonprofit organization that relies on individual donors for support.

Help Your Red Cross Help Military Families Today!

Buy your favorite brands at extra savings this month at the commissary. Your purchases will support Red Cross Armed Forces Emergency Services. So look for this logo when you shop in October. All money raised will be used in the military community.

Tai Chi Offered Year Around

Your choice of two different styles of Tai Chi

POM - A choice of two separate Tai Chi classes is being offered at Price Fitness Center (Building 842), Presidio of Monterey. Join Tai Chi Instructor Leonard Han twice a week for either Course I: "Traditional Chen Family Taijiquan Gong Fu Frame," or Course II: "Tai Chi Chi Kung I" - a short Yang style energy form. Han, the 59th Rumen Dizhi ("Indoor Disciple"), of Grandmaster Chen Qingzhou (19th generation direct descendent/successor of Chen Family Taijiquan), is also a Certified Instructor of the International Healing Tao - Taoist approach to healing and self-transformation brought to America by Master Mantak Chia.

Course I Description: Traditional Chen Family Taijiquan Gong Fu Frame - meets Monday and Wednesday from 5 to 6:30 p.m. This style is characterized by a balance of "softness and hardness" of energy, mostly absent in the practice of other styles of Taijiquan (Tai Chi). It is particularly well suited to people desiring to develop physical fitness, relaxation and concentration. The beginning class introduces the fundamental "Zhan Zhuang," stationary posture of standing meditation, necessary for cultivating "rooting into the ground, and beginning the first stage for developing "Qi," internal energy. Students will then begin learning Laojia Yi Lu ("Old Frame, First Form," 75 postures). This is the foundation set of Chen Taijiquan to develop a student's strength, balance, coordination, and understanding of Basic Tai Chi principles.

Course II Description: Tai Chi Chi Kung I (Short Yang Style Energy Form) - meets Thursdays from 6:30 to 8 p.m. only at this time - this a simple yet powerful early form of Yang style Tai Chi, which teaches the principles of body mechanics through the alignment of the bone structure with the force of gravity.

The cost: for either Tai Chi course the cost is $60 (every 4 weeks) or $15 per class for walk-ins. Private lessons are available for $35. Pre-register and pay at the Price Fitness Center desk, or arrive early to register before the beginning of your first class.

What to bring/wear: Wear loose fitting clothes (i.e. no Levi's or belts) and preferably flat-soled tennis shoes, and bring a combination lock for use of a locker to secure any valuables (i.e. purse, wallet, bags).

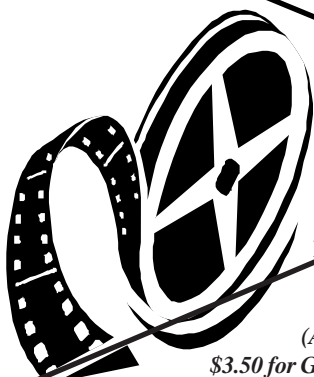

To register: Call 242-5641 (Price Fitness Center).

For additional information about either Tai Chi courses, call 373-4208.

Air Force Academy

The United States Air Force Academy (USAFA) at Colorado Springs, Colo., offers a four-year program to qualified and selected high school graduates throughout the country. Entry into the academy is very competitive. Students who want to attend should begin their enrollment process during their junior year of high school. Consideration for the academy is based on the individual's high school academic record, extracurricular activity, military performance, and the results of academy examinations. The Air Force Academy Preparatory School gives eligible Air Force enlisted men and women and selected applicants who were not offered academy appointments the opportunity to improve their selection potential. Only 50 airmen a year are selected to attend, but upon completion, these airmen will be considered for an appointment to the Air Force Academy where they can graduate as Air Force officers.

DANTES Web Site of the Month

The Internet Public Library at <http://www.ipl.org> has about 20,000 items. All items have been carefully selected, cataloged, and described by professional librarians. The many links to other relevant sources of information are excellent and logically organized, which makes this site a valuable resource for the distance learning student.

Interest Tests

The POM Education Center has just received new versions of the "Strong Interest Inventory" test. This test is used to help one understand their work interests and to show the kinds of work in which one might be comfortable. The actual test is free; and it will list many jobs, activities, school subjects to which you would be asked to indicate your likes, indifference or dislikes. The Strong is not a test of your abilities; it is an inventory of your interests. Visit the Education Center (Building 273), if interested, or phone 242-5325.
